

Laboratory Special Water Taps

Kinetic offer a range of mountable laboratory special water taps suitable for distilled, deionised or reverse osmosis water

The laboratory taps can be mounted on laboratory benches and are available in swanneck or pillar angle fitting.

Available with colour coded handles and marked as per the EN13792 standard.

The outlet is white powder coated as standard but alternative colours are available.

Available as

Distilled water (WDI)

Deionised water, cold (WDC)

Swan neck with hand wheel & removable nozzle

Swan neck with wrist action lever & removable nozzle

Pillar tap with hand wheel & removable nozzle

Stainless steel pillar tap with hand wheel & removable nozzle

Pillar tap with hand wheel & plastic nozzle

Wall mounted tap with hand wheel & plastic nozzle

Recirculating pillar tap with hand wheel & plastic nozzle

Wall mounted pillar tap with hand wheel & plastic nozzle

Colour Range

Other Colour Options

Grey Powder Coated

Polished Chrome

Satin Chrome

Satin Nickel

Colours on this page may not be a true representation.
For accurate colour samples, please contact us.